The Board of Directors of Behavioral Health Services North has recently inducted two new board members: Deanna Price and Jerome McGovern.

Craig Amoth, President and CEO of Behavioral Health Services North, noted, “We are pleased that our Board’s capacity to serve our community and our Agency has been expanded again. I’m confident that Deanne and Jerry will both make a significant contribution to our team as we move forward in this ever-changing world of behavioral healthcare.”

Deanne Price is employed at Plattsburgh Ford and lives in Peru with her family. She recently has volunteered with the Kent-DeLord House Museum and the Peru Community Church.

Jerome McGovern is retired from many years of teaching in the public schools as well as SUNY Plattsburgh in the Communications Department and as Coordinator for Newspapers-in-Education for the Press Republican. Jerry has served on the Board of Directors for Apple Valley Senior Housing in Peru and with the Literacy Volunteers of Clinton County.
